

Throughout our nation’s history, many people have spoken up for civil rights, including the right to vote. Speaking up was not easy, but the call of equality could not be ignored. People answered the call by standing up for what they believed in. Their voices, their actions, and their commitment led to important changes.

How will you answer equality’s call?

I will answer equality’s call by...
